A message from the Editor.

Today is Easter Sunday, when we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord Jesus. I hope this has been a a blessed Easter for you all.

On good Friday at Anglesea the four churches (Catholic, Baptist, Anglican and Uniting got together in the Uniting Church for an ecumenical service which was followed by a "Walk of Witness" through the Anglesea Township.

The service was conducted by Simon and Liz Clark from the Catholic Church, and was very well attended with hardly an empty seat in the church. The hymn sing was amazing and the fellowship even better.

After the service we set of together for our "walk of witness" with people taking it in turn to carry the wooden cross, we stopped six times as we walked from one end of the Anglesea shopping centre to the other and back again. When we stopped people from each of our congregations shared a scripture verse from the stations of the cross.

The street was very busy with locals and many visitors and I am sure many people realised that Good Friday at least to us was far more important than having a holiday day off work.
