A GOSPEL REFLECTION by Rev Suzie Castle

Loving all God's people is a difficult task. We are so human and put up barriers to shield us, bridges to separate us, 'tasks to do' to hide our emotions and ignore the inner feelings so that we do not have to face awkward relationships. Jesus' call to 'do for others just what you want them to do for you', goes even deeper when we understand how to live in his saintly way. Do even more for others...

There are always saintly folk in our midst who strikingly show us the better way to live. They draw on the well of love, respect and strength that we at times, find hard to reach. And yet, if we are all God's people, Christ's body, how can we ignore, that we also are in that saintly throng? Think of the saints who have inspired us and who have been Christ in our midst. Recall the times when God has called us to be the saint in a certain space.

Graciously, God does for us, what God wants us to do for each other and creation. In hope, we can find love for all God's people.
